Information on the valuation procedure pursuant to Sections 26-31 and 34 KARBV

The procedure described below for the valuation of the investment fund's assets also applies in times of market distortions that may occur in connection with the effects of the Covid 19 pandemic. No further valuation adjustments were necessary.

All assets admitted to trading on a stock exchange or another organised market or included in such a market are valued at the last available price that can be classified as tradable on the basis of firmly defined criteria and that ensures a reliable valuation (Sections 27, 34 KARBV).

The prices used are stock exchange prices, quotations on recognised information systems or prices from issuer-independent valuation systems (Sections 28, 34 KARBV). Units in investment funds are valued at their most recently available published redemption price of the respective capital management company.

Bank balances are valued at nominal value plus accrued interest, callable time deposits at fair value and liabilities at the repayment amount (Sections 29, 34 KARBV). The valuation is always carried out at the last traded price according to the defined valuation date (previous day or same day).

Assets that are not admitted to trading on an organised market or for which no tradable prices can be determined are valued using recognised valuation models based on observable market data. If a valuation on the basis of models is not possible, a valuation is carried out by means of other suitable procedures for price determination (Sections 28, 34 KARBV).

Other appropriate procedures may be the use of a price determined by a third party and subject to a plausibility check by the asset management company.

Options and futures admitted to trading on an exchange or included in an organised market are valued at the tradable price available at the time (settlement price of the respective exchange), which ensures a reliable valuation.
