Chances

- Participation in fundamental and technical events of individual stocks.
- You can benefit from the deep network that our fund managers foster with small- and mid-cap companies of our investment universe.
- The investment process enhances the security selection and ensures permanent monitoring of risks.
- You can benefit from information advantages that arise from the lower analyst coverage of small- and mid-cap companies.
- Promising upside potential of European small- and micro-cap stocks.

Risk / Return Indicator [9]

In addition to the general risks detailed in the Sales Prospectus, the volatility risk on the European stock market is of special importance.

The Lupus alpha Micro Champions A fund is classified in category 4 because its unit price typically fluctuates moderately and therefore both risks of loss and chances of gains can be correspondingly moderate.

For detailed information on opportunities and risks, please refer to the current Sales Prospectus.

Risks

- Risk of price changes:
Experience shows that equities are subject to sharp price fluctuations and thus the risk of price declines. These fluctuations are particularly impacted by the earnings development of the issuing company as well as sector trends and overall economic development.
- Concentration risk:
If investment is concentrated on particular assets or markets, the fund becomes particularly heavily dependent on the performance of these assets or markets.
- Liquidity risk:
If securities are traded in a relatively narrow market segment, it can be difficult to resell them in situations where there is insufficient liquidity.
- Operational risk:
The fund can become the victim of fraud, criminal acts or errors by company employees or external third parties. Finally, management of the fund can be negatively impacted by external events such as fires, natural disasters or similar.
- Market risk:
The performance of financial products depends on the development of the capital markets.
- Currency risk:
Changes in exchange rates can affect the price of fund shares.

Legal Notice

- [1] Source: Lupus alpha; gross performance (BVI method): The gross performance considers all costs incurred at Fund level (e. g. management fee) and assumes reinvestment of any distributions. Costs incurred at customer level such as sales charge and securities account costs are not included. Unless otherwise specified, all indicated performance data show the gross performance. Please note: Past performance is not a reliable indicator for future performance.
- [2] Source: Lupus alpha; the net performance assumes a model calculation based on an invested amount of EUR 1,000, the maximum sales charge and a redemption charge (see master data). It does not include individual costs of the investor, such as a securities account fee. (To this effect, please refer to the price list of your securities account provider.) Please note: Past performance is not a reliable indicator for future performance.
- [3] Volatility is the range of variation of a security price or index around its mean value over a fixed period of time. A security is regarded as volatile if its price fluctuates heavily. The tracking error describes the standard deviation (volatility) between the Fund's performance and the performance of the benchmark index. The higher the tracking error, the more the performance of the Fund deviates from the performance of the benchmark index.
The investment ratio means the part of the Fund that is not invested in cash.
Sharpe Ratio: Sharpe Ratio is the excess return (Fund performance less money market rate) in relation to the range of variation (volatility) and shows the yield of the Fund per risk unit. The higher the Sharpe Ratio, the more yield has been generated in relation to the risk incurred.
Maximum drawdown: The maximum drawdown is the largest percentage drop in value in a given period of time. It measures the amount the fund falls from its highest point to its lowest point in the selected timeframe.
- [4] The initial sales charge is the difference between the sales price and the unit value. The sales charge varies depending on the type of the Fund and the distribution channel and usually covers advisory and distribution costs. The Distributor will demand the sales charge at its own discretion.
- [5] The management fee is the fee for managing the Fund and taken from the Fund's assets; it is paid to Lupus alpha for the management and administration of the Fund.
- [6] The performance fee is a performance-related remuneration depending on the performance or the achievement of specific objectives such as a better performance compared to a benchmark. The costs may also be levied if a pre-defined minimum performance has been achieved.
- [7] Distributing Funds do not reinvest the generated income, they pay out the income to the investor.
- [8] Benchmark: Until 31.12.2020: Euro Stoxx Small Return Index, since 01.01.2021: MSCI Europe Micro Cap Net Total Return Index.
- [9] The presentation shows the summary risk indicator (SRI) of the Fund's Key Information Document (KID) and does not include all possible risks. Funds are subject to market-related price fluctuations which may result in losses up to the total loss of the invested capital. For additional risks and detailed information on the summary risk indicator, please refer to the current Key Information Document. You may retrieve the Key Information Document and the current Sales Prospectus from our website at www.lupusalpha.de.
- [5] The fund takes sustainability-related risks into account when making investment decisions and is classified as a product under Article 6 of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 on sustainability-related disclosure requirements in the financial services sector ("SFDR").

The Subfund may invest more than 35% of the Fund's assets in securities and money market instruments of one or several issuers. These issuers are specified in the Management Regulations of the Subfund, section "Investment Restrictions and Risk Diversification".
