

Ralf LochmüllerManaging Partner, CEO and responsible for Strategy & Planning*Member Executive Committee

Ralf Lochmüller is managing partner, CEO and responsible for Strategy & Planning as well as member of the Executive Committee. He has 30 years of experience in asset management. In 2000, he decided to start his own company and joined forces with four other partners to found the independent asset manager Lupus alpha. Previously, Mr. Lochmüller worked with the Anglo-American investment company INVESCO for 12 years, initially as head of portfolio management (bonds) and later on as managing director and global partner of portfolio management and sales. Moreover, his career includes a position at Chase AG in Frankfurt where he was in charge of Securities Trading.